A special to the Chicago Record-Herald from El Reno, Okla., dated July 3, says: More than 50,000 boomers, camped and quartered along the margins of the Kiowa and Comanche lands about to be opened for settlement, were thrown into a fever of excitement and rage tonight when the news circulated that a thousand sooners have already invaded the reservations and staked out for themselves the choicest sections of

It was the government's plan to distribute the 13,473 homestead claims by requiring the qualified homesteaders to draw lots. The "sooners," however, have determined to fight what they call "Uncle Sam's lottery scheme." Acting on this determinagal opinions, to the effect that the lottery grab what they want the moment the President's proclamation is issued, and hold their claims even to the extremity of killing those settlers who try to set up their tents and claims upon tracts awarded in the drawing.

the drawing.

Dozens of the most desperate "sooners" of the Oklahoma boom are here armed to the teeth and mounted upon fleet horses. They are coming in from the unallotted territory to spend the Fourth in town, and some of them openly boast of having stolen a march on the settlers who are waiting.

Many of the boomers, living in weatherbeaten tents and almost starving, have been here for more than a year waiting for the opening of the lands. Some of them have spent what little money they brought to pay the government charges on the land, and now they are desperate with disappointment, poverty and the final threat of the sooners that all their waiting has been

Boy Painfully Injured - Colored Man Suspected of Objectionable Conduct-General Matters

The condition of Harvey L. Poss, the young man who was accidentally shot yesterday morning on the Conduit road, above Cabin John bridge, was reported to be somewhat better this morning, and there is some little hope of his recovery. The bullet passed through one of the lungs, and was extracted at a point on the breast just above the heart. An operation was successfully performed to check the internal bleeding. The patient passed a quiet night. Take a 'Rus Ride.

The start was made at 8:30 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock in the evening the party arrived home, after spending a most enjoyable day. Among the invited guests were Miss Degnan of Baltimore; Miss Chalmers of Vermont; Miss Foley, Miss M Gill, Mr. John Ockershausen of New York city and Mr. Patterson. HAGERSTOWN NEWS GRIST.

Trouble With Water Company-More Monuments for Antietam.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 4, 1901. An embarrassing contention, for this sweltering weather, is now on between the Washington County Water Company and Hagerstown's city officials. The water board contemplates some important improvements and extensions in Hagerstown, which, it is claimed, are delayed pending a settlement between the city and the water company. The contention of the water company is that the town owes it $7,100. while the town claims the water company is in its debt to the amount of $6,000. The water board has asked of the city a prompt settlement, and so the matter rests at pres-

Antietam battlefield is to be further beautified in the near future by the erection of thirteen monuments to commemorate Pennsylvania soldiers. A bill has just passed the legislature of that state, and will no doubt receive the signature of Gov. Stone, appropriating $1,500 each to the following organizations, viz.: The 45th, 48th, 50th, 51st, 100th, 124th, 125th, 128th, 113th, 132d and 137th Pennsylvania Infantry, and 12th Cavalry and Durell's Battery. Many of the farmers of this county who have finished harvesting report a great deal of scab in the wheat. Notwithstanding this lrawback, the yield will be large. An alarming epidemic of typhoid fever is raging at Maugansville, five miles from Hagerstown, a number of deaths having occurred and eight cases being reported on one street at the present time. All efforts to trace its cause have failed. The water used by the citizens of the town, and which ole, was, upon analysis, found to be perfectly pure.

Not least among the numerous attractions are the varying views of mainland and marine scenery, unusual at the shore. The Isle of Manisses is dotted with lakelets and picturesque farms, windmills and lighthouses. The popular sport of fishing affords a variety to its devotees. Bluefishing is all the rage, and the famous codfish banks are within sight of the island. Swordfishing is exciting, and mackerel and striped bass yield to the sportsman plenteously.
